What characteristics about this new community of believers seem attractive?

If you could pick only one item from the list below, which would you choose to focus on?

- To be devoted to learning God's Word.
- To be devoted to fellowship, the breaking of bread, and to prayer.
- To sell my possessions and give to those who have need.
- To go to church every day and worship with a large group of believers.
- To meet regularly in a home with a small group of believers, eating together and talking about God's character.
- To be a part of helping my friends at school come to Christ.

Why that one?

Why do you think more churches and small groups don't look like the early church?

How can a loving and authentic community be an evangelistic force throughout the world?
